HELP IN THE GAS FIGHT.

Ambler Meeting Called This Thursday Evening.

Details of the Local Work to Be Arranged—Report of General Meeting Held Last Week at Glenside—Other Matters to Be Considered.

The Civic Protection Association of Ambler, through its secretary, Stuart H. MacIntire, has issued letters for a meeting to be held this Thursday evening in the Ambler town hall to further discuss the fight against the proposed gas rates of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric company and to consider the work yet to be done with regard to properly and effectively presenting before the public service commission next October certain data to make the present fight successful.

Eleanor Hubbs.

The letter is as follows:

"The various communities of what is known as the Jenkintown District of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric Co., have combined to voice their disapproval of the present excessive gas rates. The borough of Ambler is one of the largest and foremost of the Communities striving for a reduction in these rates. This fight has only been instituted against the Philadelphia Sub. Gas and Electric Co's. unreasonably high gas rates, after the most careful consideration was given the matter in every detail.

"All gas consuming citizens of Ambler will be benefited should our fight prove a success. Combined effort, made possible by your support of this worthy cause, will insure success. It is imperative that you be fully informed of what has been done, is being done, and will be done in our righteous cause. With this thought in mind we wish you would be present at a special meeting to be held in the hall on the second flo r of our fire-house, Thursday, March 24th, at 8 P. M. sharp."

Mr. MacInutire recently attended a meeting at Glenside of the general committee, and will probably have a report to make as to what is being done in the other communities with which Ambler is associated in this protest.

The farmers of this section were out in force on Monday and wherever one looked teams were seen plowing in the fields. The ground is in excellent condition for work and should the present favorable weather conditions prevail farm work will be at least three weeks ahead of the average. It has been several years since the farmers have been favored in getting on their grounds so early in the spring. The spraying of fruit trees and small fruit bushes for pests has also been pushed forward this year much earlier than in previous years. The fruit trees are now starting to bud, and it is hoped that there will be no frosts to do damage, as it would mean the loss of thousands of dollars to local growers.

BANK AIDS THE FARMERS.

How to Grow Better Corn and Potatoes.

Largely attended Meeting in Ambler Opera House Under Auspices of Montgomery County Farm Bureau and the First National Bank of Ambler.

Nearly 300 persons, farmers and their wives, sons and daughters attended the convention in Ambler opera house on Tuesday evening in the interest of better corn and potatoes, the meeting having been arranged by the First National Bank of Ambler under the auspices of the Montgomery county farm bureau.

For several years past the Ambler bank has awarded cash prizes among its depositors for the best one-acre and the best five-acre tracts, and the inovation has been so well received that an educational session was planned, at which not only speakers but screen pictures as well might be available for the growers who desire further to compete for these prizes during the coming season.

Through the courtesy of A. K. Rothenberger, agent of the local county farm bureau, speakers and slides were secured, and the closest attention was paid to both during the evening.

The program opened with a more or less humorous picture, though with a series moral, on the subject of "Uncle Sam Putting Hiram to Work," wherein the value of seed selection, formaldehyde treatment before planting, careful cultivation and proper marketing were most visably presented.

Following were slides on potato growing, plant conditions, treatment of vines, leak, comparative results as to spraying, etc. At the conclusion of this screen Mr. G. F. Miles, specialist on plant diseases, of State college, gave an illustrated talk on "Potato Diseases," in which he urged the necessity of economic production, likening the potato plant to a fully equipped factory. He urged the spraying of vines with Bordeaux mixture, and showed four generations of plants, and the yield therefrom under the best and most careful conditions contrasted with the yield from untreated vines.

Mr. E. J. Walters, extension specialist, spoke on corn growing, dwelling particularly on care as to the choice of seed and tests as to vitality. The root system, cultivation, etc., were emphacized, and the speaker said that under normal conditions the growth of weeds is more to be guarded against until the corn has grown to a height of two feet than dry weather is to be feared, and in his closing remarks he told the farmers just what to do in order to win next fall the cash prizes to be awarded by the Ambler bank.

At a recent meeting of the Irving Literary Society, Flourtown, Samuel Yeakle, one of the directors of the county poor board, presented to the society a copy of last year's report of the directors. In connection with the gift he read the following original verses on the subject of "The Poor:"

"The poor are always with you,"
Were words the Master said,
Whose heart was ever open
For all by sorrow led.

As 'twas in times departed,
It is in this our day,
The poor are ever with us
And claim our help alway.

The milk of human kindness
Is offered and is given
To those who poor, neglected,
Are outcasts, harshly driven.

The widow and the orphan
Call us with strong appeal,
For help that may relieve them,
Allay the grief they feel.

When we are young and hopeful
And cares hang light around,
We know not of the sadness
In many hearts are found

'Tis ours to help the needy,
The friendless and forlorn,
Extend the hand of mercy
And lift the burden borne.

While many have the blessings
Of home and comfort here,
The hand of harsh misfortune
On some lies so severe.

May those who are more favored
With wordly comforts here,
Forget not those without them,
But sympathize and cheer.

NORTH WALES.

William Swaugher has purchased a building lot on West Walnut street on which he will erect a bunaglow.

Clarence Missimer, the dairyman, who has been on the sick list, is again able to be out to attend to business.

John Hangey, of the Main Street hotel, finding no use for stables since the automobile has eliminated much of the horse stabling business, has converted a large part of his stables into a storage garage.

Rev. Lloyd Stevens, of the Sanctuary M. E. church, and his lay delegates are attending the annual conference this week in the city. It is expected he will be returned as pastor.

Peter Vankiff has sold a building lot on West Montgomery avenue to George W. Heaton, of Moorestown, N. J.

Prof. A. Rackerman, principal of our high schools has tendered his resignation to take effect April 1. It is said the cause is the disagreement between him and the School Board as to methods of instruction and management.

W. W. Riggin, council I. O.I. A., meeting in Parker's hall, has surrendered to its charter.

Camp, No. 547, P. O. S. of A., which meet in the same building, contemplates moving to the Odd Fellows' hall in the near future. The Parker estate desire to sell the building and will not lease again to lodges.

There was a small turn out at a meeting called to consider the matter of securing grounds for school athletics. The public evidently think that outside organizations should attend to sports.

Grounds have been offered by several property owners to any organization that desires to organize a ball playing association.

Wm. Hartley has sold his house on West Montgomery avenue to George Santman, of this town.

Rev. H. J. Klein, of Lancaster Seminary, presided at the dedication services in St. Luke's Reformed church on Sunday morning of altar furnishings and vestments presented to the church in honor of members of that church who sacrificed their lives in the world war.

Our town councilmen again are in hot water with the property owners of the Fenstermacher and Dill tract, who want the borough to make their streets passable and to give them grade lines for curbing and building sidewalks. This tract was a farm and laid out in lots and sold. May of the purchasers have homes thereon. But the borough declines to accept the streets and improve them from the meager taxes receiver therefrom. They claim thep romoters of the tract should have done that before they sold the lots.

Clarence Lull attended a meeting of the committee making arrangements for the Odd Fellows' centennial in the city next June, held at the grand lodge rooms in Philadelphia on Wednesday last. The lodges in this district will participate in the big parade in that week on June 5th.

Kembler vs. County

The action of Ervin T. Kemble, of Willow Grove vs. Montgomery County, to recover damages because of the change of grade of the new Welsh road, which had been on trial for a day before Judge Miller in Court Room No. 2, ended with a non-suit.

Mr. Kemble claimed damages because of the change of grade made in the Welsh road by the state laying the concrete road that leads from a sea of mud, stones and ruts to Willow Grove Park. The change, he claimed, had made unaccessible a lane from his farmhouse to the Welsh road, which gave him a short cut to Willow Grove, and had also thrown water over a piece of meadow land converting it into a swamp.

At the conclusion of the plaintiff's testimony the court, upon motion of counsel for defendant, granted a nonsuit, thec hief ground therefore being that the action was barred by the statute of limitations, the change of grade having been made in 1912.

Willow Grove Park a Paying Enterprise.

According to the pamphlet, "Philadelphia Rapid Transit, Stotesbury-Mitten Management," issuel recently, Willow Grove park is now yielding an annual financial return to the traction management. The booklet contains the following paragraph on the subject of Willow Grove park.

This is the second of a series of talks to be given to the members on subjects of the day and interest to the order. The fraternal community affair planned by the local camp that was ta take place early next month, has been postponed for the present as the rearrangements now made, if successfully carried out, will give to local lodge members and residents the opportunity of hearing one of the leading officials of the state.

So far as can be learned at this writing, all the students and members of the faculty of Carson college who were ill with scarlet fever, have almost fully recovered and are able to be about again.

Bids for the erection of the new addition to the Flourtown public school will be opened this week and it is expected that work on the same will be started at an early date.

There was quite a large attendance at the weekly shoot of the Flourtown Fire company last Saturday afternoon. Some very good scores were made, and in the sweepstake Russell Smith was high gun with a score of 22 out of 25 targets. Another big shoot will be held next Saturday afternoon.

Holy communion will be celebrated next Sunday morning in Springfield Presbyterian church and in the evening a special Easter program will be rendered by the Sabbath school. Preparatory services will be held this Wednesday evening.

Samuel Thomas and Herbert Seddon expect to move this week from the railroad company's property to their own property, on the pike, near Erdenheim.

The choir of Zion Lutheran church at Whitemarsh will sing the Lenten Cantata, "The Story of Calvary," by Schnecker, this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

May Enlarge Hatboro.

Hatboro may be enlarged by annexation.

Mr. Garner at a recent meeting of borough council made a report with reference to taking in additional territory in the borough. He recommended that Hatboro Manor be included and also the west side of Jacksonville road north of the County Line. The matter, however, was left in the hands of the committee for further consideration. President Carrell reported that he had taken up with the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad the question of having signals at the dangerous railroad crossing in Hatboro.

Autoist Demands $27,000 Damages.

Actions have been brought in the office of Prothonotary Frederick, as follows:

By Attorney Harold G. Knight, in behalf of Daniel W. Shelly against Kathryn M. Mott to recover $27,000 damages. The action is based upon an automobile accident which occurred November 24, 1920, at the intersection of the Butler and the Skippack pikes, when plaintiff alleged, the defendant ran into his machine. The former's car, it is claimed, was so badlywrecked that it was made worthless and his left arm was so badly injured that a bone had to be removed, greatly impairing the member's use. For the personal injuries sustained plaintiff claims $25,000 damages and for the automobile, $2000.

By Attorneys E. L. and Thomas Hallman, in behalf of Frank Yost against Henry Yost, Jr., both of Collegeville, to recover $704.80, wages alleged to be due plaintiff, who was employed as an automobile mechanic, by defendant.

Junk Dealer Given 18 Months.

George D. Evans, a junk dealer of Lansdale, was senteenced in Montgomery county court to eighteen months in the county jail. Evans was convicted at the last term of criminal court of receiving stolen good. He was charged with buying new brass fittings and pipe stolen from the Philadelphia Suburban Gas company by two of its employes. The latter, Wilcox and Moyer, peaded guilty and turned state's evidence. According to their testimoney, Evans not only bought the metal knowing it to be stolen, but induced them to do the stealing. Leading business men of Lansdale appeared in behalf of Evans and Judge Miller stated he had received fifty-eight letters asking for leniency. The court stated: "The defendant cannot come before us with the usual plea in larceny cases. He is a man of means and standing in his community whose crime was committed, simply because he was inspired by a sordid greed for money. Better things are expected of a man of his standing."

Fair for Doylestown.

Prominent business men, farmers and sportsmen from every section of Bucks county will gather at Doylestown on Thursday, March 31, to formally organize what will be known as the Bucks County Fair Association.

The county fair in Bucks county has been agitated for five years until recently it came to a head when County Farm Agent N. E. Garber, of Doylestown, called a preliminary meeting. The project is being fostered by the Warminster Driving Club, which organization last year erected a $25,000 town. The fair will be held on these grounds, which include twenty acres. Five more additional acres will be secured by the fair association.

It is the plan of the farmers' clubs, granges, sporting associations and schools of the county to back the fair project to the limit. An expert will organize the association and sell stock in the new organization.

Opposed to County Assesing Board.

Although the proposed legislation which will remove from office nearly all the county assessors is reported to have the backing of the county commissioners' association of the state, Montgomery county officials are opposed to the bill.

The bill would create a county assessment board of three members, who have the power to appoint the number of assistants desired. The measure calls for assessment value, without a basis of percentage, but uses the same phraseology in defining the method to arrive at a value. The present law says that values should be set at the figure possible to obtain "from a well advertised sale" of the property. Under the proposed bill, the same system would be used.

Protests have also gone up from several townships of the county. Lower Merion's Commissioners committemen met the other evening and voted against it, and Springfield does not approve of the scheme. The assessors who would be thrown out of jobs by the measure are also strongly opposed to the bill.

WHAT CROPS TO RAISE.

Horsham Farmers Discuss the Question.

Go Along as Usual and Average One Year With Another—Alsike and Red Clover—Interesting Session—Next Month's Program.

The Horsham Farmers' Club assembled at the home of Howard Jarret on Saturday evening. The newly elected president, Isaac Michener, in a few well chosen remarks, spoke of the work of the club since its inception and what it has done for the neighborhood.

The minutes were read and the committees reported that a slight change was made in the order of business bringing the answering of referred questions first.

"Give the History of St. Patrick" Horace Adee read a very pleasing sketch of this most remarkable man who found Ireland all heathen and left it all Christian. "Under present and prospective conditions what will be the most profitable crops to raise the coming year?" Frank Carrell said he wishes he could answer that question to the satisfaction of every one including himself. Never before did it cost so much to raise a crop as last season and most of these things, were sold at a loss. His advice is to all to go ahead and plant about as usual, for it is not over production so much as bad business conditions that is the matter this time.

Ezra Carrell discussed this answer. he arranged that small things, like lima beans, etc., may be better for us, so near to the market.

H. W. Hallowell said it is to be a joke to suggest lima beans to a man with 150 acres to till. That man will be lucky if he raises enough lima beans to eat. One year is no rule for another. One has a great crop, next year there is but little. Go along in the old riet. Now with the scarcity of help and the cost of transportation, he thinks hay and similar articles very safe to consider hec an remember various period when we were told horses would no longer be used, grow no feed for them. So far all grown had been needed.

"Does it pay to sow red clover?" N. E. Wood said he had often sowed red clover in vain, while a field of alsike is not any trouble and sells well. A field of Alsike looks like a beautiful carpet. Be careful not to sow it too thick.

William Penrose objected to Alsike because it makes no second crop He has better success if he mixes the red and Alsike. Some farmers fear the Alsike smothers the timothy.

Report of the crap committee, N. E. Wood thinks no harm has been done to the fruit buds so far. Some prices are lower.

Domestic economy. Mrs. Davis Sill says it is rather presumptuous to tell the women of the Horsham Club how to keep house. She has tried throwing potatoes, large ones, in boiling water 10 minutes then put them into the oven to bake. They cook in about half the usual time.

The editor on commencing to read the club Gazette, said in the Spirit she read that the meeting of the Horsham Club 25 years ago, inaugurated exactly the same officers as today. She argued from this that this club is a stable organization. She went on to read a very interesting number.

Report of the delegates attending the Solebury club on Feb. 19. Mr. Michener, on behalf of the delegates gave a most pleasing sketch of the day's doings. The other delegates had good things to say.

Report of the committee on community meeting was a brief resume of the very successful day, Feb. 23. The Treasurer reported all bills paid, and a comfortable balance. The full minute book was ordered placed with other full ones in Union Library Club.

A delightful social hour followed. Refreshments were served, music and merry chat so accompainent to them took very little heed of the drenching rain falling outside.

Executive committee submitted this program for next meeting. "Are auto trucks a profitable investment to the average farmer or would it pay him better to have his produce hauled to market" Chalkley Stackhous.

"Are those who plant pedigreed seeds of any kinds, more successful than those who are old fashioned every day farmers?"

"Does it pay for a farmer having a large family of boys and girls to spent much time on the lawn and flowers?" Anna M. C. Mullen.

"Will the girl of the future depend on home training or the public school for instructions in cooking and sewing?" Blanche Hallowell.

Time and place of next meeting, the home of Ezra and Mary Carrell, April 23, at 7.30 p. m.

Fake Bond Man Held.

He was taken to the office of Magistrate Renshaw, in Philadelphia, where he deposited $800 bail for his appearance at the Montgomery county court.

Rotary Club for Norristown.

Norristown is to have a Rotary Club. Strange to say this modern organization was started one evening recently in candle light, the modern system of lighting, electricity, having been put out of commission by the storm.

Some forty business, professional and manufacturing residents met for dinner at the Plymouth Country club for the purpose of forming a Rotary Club in this borough, and the organization took permanent form by the election of temporary officers and 25 charter members.

Restocking Trout Streams.

H. G. Unger, secretary of the Montgomery County Fish and Game Association with a corps of assistants has been busy distributing 76 cans of brook trut in the various trout streams i nthis vicinity. They came from Clifton Forge, Va., and are being placed in the upper waters of Valley Gulph and Branch creeks.

Want County to Improve Road.

Two hundred strong, the special good roads committee and the citizens of Red Hill, Pennsburg and Green Lane swooped down upon the court house to demand action from the county commissioners on the matter of building the Goshenhoppen Turnpike road, which they claimed was promised to them two years ago.

FORT WASHINGTON NEWS.

tems of Passing Interest Condensed in Short Paragraphs.

Fire Destroys Garage and a Car—Work on the Trolley Tracks Promises Early Res..mption on the Turnpike—55th Wedding Anniversary—Oil Reported Found.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Gillian quietly observed the 55th anniversary of their wedding. They were the recipients of many appreciated gifts and congratulations. Both are still active, Mr. Gillian having resumed work at the anvil after an illness, and Mrs. Gillian assists in all the household duties, and also has an intereting class of 16 young men in the Sunday school of Calvary Methodist church, Ambler, sessions of which she is very regular in attendance.

William Lee, on Friday, celebrated the 19th anniversary of his birth, and delightfully entertained many of his little friends.

John R. Fell and family have gone to Aiken, S. C., to spend the Easter season.

John Wilkerson, who has been quite ill has sufficiently recovered to return to his place of employment at Hoopeston mills.

A large force of men are being employed here by the Lehigh Valley Transit company in moving the tracks preparatory to rebuilding of the pike in this section.

Walter Craig, local druggist, is contemplating some improvements to his property.

On monday morning at 4.30 the frame stable of M. E. Morton, on Spring avenue, formerly the old Schowers property was discovered in flames. A general alarm was sounded but little could be done to save the structure or the motor car stored therein. The local fire company and also the organizations from Glenside and Edge Hill responded and kept the flames confined. The building was recently renovated.

George Hawkins, of Glenside, visited his sister, Mrs. Thomas Gillian, on Saturday.

U. G. Funk has recovered from his recent illness.

Charles Hoffman has purchased a Ford Sedan.

The Campbell support case was threshed out in the county court last week, some of the local persons were witnesses.

It is reported that oil has been found on the Pawlin property, formerly the Buckley residence along the turnpike south of this place. The property has recently been transferred, and the new purchaser, it is said, was apprised of the oil indications before he secured title. However, it is announced, that the drilling of wells will be commenced early in the summer, and at that time the success of the enterprise can be determined. 40 years ago boring for oil was started at Jarrettown, but the enterprise proved a failure.

On Friday night thieves entered St. Thomas' church, Whitemarsh, and removed a valuable rug. Apparently nothing else was disturbed. The state police are at work on the case.

There is a rumor here that the property of N. C. Dutterar, on Summit avenue, has been rented and will be occupied in the near future as a shoe store.

Russel Riley is now being employed by Fred Arnold in painting some of his buildings.

Mrs. James Johnson, who has been quite ill and confined to her room, is reported to be improving at this writing.

Harvey Sabold, who recently purchased the Taylor property on the pike expects to engage in the poultry business extensively. In preparation thereof Mr. Sabold has already begun the repairs and improvements to the large chicken house on the place.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McCormick has been quite ill, but at this writing she is reported to be doing nicely.

The services at Zion Lutheran church Whitemarsh, were attended by full congregation at the morning and evening services on Palm Sunday. Services will be continued both morning and evening this week. Next Sunday morning communion services conducted by the pastor, Rev. M. L. Hocker, will be observed and the evening, service by the Sunday school. Remember the cantata service by the choir this Thursday evening at 7.45. Annual congregational meeting and social, Monday evening, March 28.

The plans for the transfer of the Fort Washington Montgomery County League franchise to the Conshohocken A. A. have been completed, and approved by the League. The Fort Washington management wish to state that the article published last week with regard to Conshohocken aiding Fort Washington to pay its expenses during the coming season is incorrect, and that the Fort Washington team will be this year, as in the past, supported by the town's people. The real reason of the transfer is that the Fort Washington supporters have demanded home boys on the team, and as the club officials are running the team to please their supporters the change was made. The team will be represented in the Philadelphia Suburban League and meet their old rivals:- Glenside, Hatboro, Wyndmoor Willow Grove and Southampton. A rule in the Suburban League states that each club must have least five players residents of the town they represent in all games at all times.

The services in St. Paul"- Reformed church on Easter Sunday will be an early service of praise at 6 o'clock, the Holy Communion at 10.45, and the Easter service by the Sunday School at 7.30. Service on Good Friday at 10.45, a. m., preparatory service 7.30 p. m.

COLD POINT AND PLYMOUTH.

Rapid progress has been made with the outside concrete work at the Plymouth Meeting plant of the American Magnesia company. The roadway to the plant is opened and the workmen are now engaged in erecting the concrete reinforced arches over the creek each side of the driveway.

Cold Point grange will render a play on April 2, in the Plymouth Consolidated school. Admission will be 35 cents.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Beulah Sinclair, of Plymouth Meeting, entertained the teachers of the Plymouth Consolidated school and Mrs. Helen Hamel, of Hickorytown, previous to the parent-teacher meeting in the school house. There was a large attendance of patrons and friends of the schools. Rev. E. A. Chamberlin, of Barren Hill, delivered an address and after a general discussion the association was organized by electing the following officers: President, Mrs. Walter Miller, secretary, Miss Anna Weaver; treasurer, Mrs. Beuhlah Sinclair. The pupils of the Fifth grade rendered an historical pageant, and the there was a cornet solo by Miss Thompson. Mrs. Hamel also favored with piano selections. The association has made a most promising start, and the interst manifested at the initial meeting evidences a close association of parents, teachers and directors.

Rapid progress is being made with the renovation and improvements to the Hickorytown hall. The building is being made longer and the walls will also be raised to make the structure higher and to provide for a comfortable second story.

William Lucket, who purchased the James Chalk farm, near Washington Square, some time ago, is making extensive improvements to the property. He has put a new roof on the house and painted and papered it throughout and will paint the barn and other outbuildings. It will be a very attractive home when furnished. He has already been offered quite an advance price on the property.

Lewis B. Sheppard, who has been farming Springdale Farm for his father the past two years, has moved to the Wilmer Kearns property, near Plymouth Park, and will engage in trucking for Mr. Kearns, who has quite an extensive route in Chestnut Hill.

Clarence Trisbach and three of his children, of Washington Square, who have been quarantined for mumps are able to be about again.

Miss Ruth Lucket, of Washington Square, who has had a very severe attack of tonsilitis, is getting better and expects to be about soon.

One day last week during the high wind the fire ompany from Washington Square was called out to subdue a fire in John Conard's woods, 100 ready-made posts were destroyed and had it not been for the fire ompany's prompt arrival the damage would have been much more serious.

Collision Near Harmonville.

Mrs. H. Metzgar, of the Joshua road and the Germantown pike, Marble Hall, was hurt one evening recently as a result of the Ford sedan car, which she was operating, colliding with a Dodge car at the junction of the two roads below Harmonville. Her injuries were temporarily dressed at a nearby house, and then she was removed to her own home. She was extricated with considerable difficulty from the wreckage of the auto.

The two occupants of the Dodge car, which vehicle was completely overturned and crushed are representatives of the Keystone Motor Agency, Philadelphia, and were also injured. They were able to drag themselves from the wreckage without much difficulty, and after giving attention to the removal of what was left of their car, proceeded to their destination.
